The Post-Dispatch is the only evening news paper in St. Louis that receives or published news gathered by the Associated Press.

Experts Agree

That advertisements are news. A paper carrying a large amount of advertising is more valuable to the subscriber than a paper without this commercial news.

Ergo-the POST-DISPATCH is far more valuable to the reader than its three nearest St. Louis competitors, the Globe-Democrat, Republic and Times combined, because the POST-DISPATCH carries more of the home merchants' advertising than three of all four of its competitors added together.

The POST-DISPATCH has done this on three out of four days of this week, namely, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. We printed the figures for Tuesday and Wednesday, here is the score for Thursday:

Denies Statement That Grape Juice Contains More Alcohol Than Beer.

Than Beer.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Secretary of State
Bryan "handed one" to Richard Bartholdt, because of his attack on grapejuice as an alcoholic drink.

The Missouri Congressman had been quoted as saying that grape juice contained from 6 to 7 per cent alcohol, while beer, he said, contained only between 3 and 4 per cent. This aroused the Commoner.

"I'll say something about that," he "It is false on its face. Anyone who knows Mr. Bartholdt knows that he would prefer grape juice to beer, if there was more alcohol in it. I don't know whether Mr. Bartholdt uses liquor himself or not, but next to his interest in nternational peace he seems to be in-erested in compulsory drinking."

Is the Price That Will Cause a Rapid Carrying Away of

Men's and Youths' $18, $20 and Even $25 Suits and Overcoats

Our January Clearing Sale of Men's and Youths' Clothing has been a remarkable event, inasmuch as the season's most desirable styles in high-grade Suits and Overcoats have been offered at Clearing Sale prices.

This has resulted in an accumulation of small lots, which permits us to make further price-reductions which will go into effect on Saturday.

Among the Further Reduced Lots Are Some Kuppenheimer Suits!

The Suits embrace many styles which will be quite correct for wear this coming Spring. For young men there are the English-cut coats with patch pockets, styles so much in demand with correct dressers. For the older men, there are more conservatively-built Suits, with plain two and three button coats, and in a world of desirable patterns, embracing neat dark effects, and black and white checks and stripes as well as English-looking mixtures. The assortment is a large one. The sizes embrace Suits for lads of 15 years up to those for men who wear 44 to 46-

The Overcoats —include new English-looking mixtures, blue or gray chinchillas, and as to styles, there are some cut in the short English belted back effects—others 50 to 52-inches in length, and made with convertible or shawl collars. Mostly every desirable color combination is represented. Choice.

Madero against Porfirio Diaz, which began in Noember, 1910. These reports were made by secre service agents in the spring of 1911 dor to Mexico, Henry Lane Wilso Wilson's report was based on hear-say evidence; that of the secret ser-

of State Knox and Attorney-General Wickersham knew of the aid the Waters Pierce Oil Co. was giving to Madero, and that was one of the reasons why Taft held off many months from lending moral support to the Madero cause, it is said. At the time the secret service agents reported that Madero was getting financial help from the Waters Pierce Oll Co., there was a strong border patrol of troops and agents of the Departments of Justice Commerce and the Treasury to prevent arms and ammunition being sent lieved he was en route to New York, across the border. During this time the Washington administration was throwing its influence to Diaz.

Revolutionists' Attorney. Wickersham, at the time of his ap-continent to the Cabinet, represented the Mexican Government on the board directors of the Mexican National National Railways board. inperdreadnaughts to Relieve Amer-ican Warships at Vera Crus. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—That the Wai and Navy Departments consider it necessary to keep a strong force within triking distance of Mexico was evident oday. The Navy Department ordered 5400 marines at Campelliott, Panama, to leave there on the battleship Minnesot for Vera Cruz, to be distributed among the warships of Admiral Fletcher' the warships of Admiral Fletcher's fleet. Admiral Fletcher now has 450 marines and more than 5000 blue jackets. The Navy Department is arranging to strengthen the naval force off Vera Cruz and Tampico, not numerically, but by tonnage. The three superdreadnaughts Florida. North Dakota and Utah will relieve the battleships New Jersey Rhode Island and Nebresks. Jersey, Rhode Island and Nebreska ormer President of Defunct Mercantile Co. Issues First Statement About Case.

Walter D. Coles, referee in bankruptcy, has allowed Harry E. Wagomer's $42,052.5 claim against the defunct Wagoner Mercantile Co., of which he formerly was president. Wagoner resides at 5157 Kensington avenue.

"Mr. Wagoner appeared as a witness before John B. Carroll, the trustee in bankruptcy, and was questioned about his claim," Referee Coles told a PostDispatch reporter. "After he was examined nobody questioned Wagoner's right to his claim and it has been allowed."

Wagoner, in addition to his personal claim of $42,062.54, also presented the claims of the Wagoner Realty Co., the Wagoner Undertaking Co., and the Mechanics-American Bank, making a total of more than $80,000, all of which were allowed by the raferee.

Wagoner's Loans Cheeked. Walter H. Saunders, attorney fo Walter H. Saunders, attorney for Trustee Carroll, declared the books of the Wagoner Mercantile Co., owing to a system adopted some years ago, prior to Wagoner's connection with the company, were kept in such a manner as not to show the financial advances made by Wagoner. By checking Wagoner's loans through the various banks where made, Saunders said, it was proved that Wagoner's said, it was proved that Wagoner's said, and saim was conroved that Wagoner's claim was cor

The referee's ruling having closed the case as far as Wagoner is concerned, the former president of the concern decided to make his first statement clearing up his connection with the defunct company. He said he had been forced to take charge of the affairs of the mercantile company to protect loans he had made to the company, secured by the company's treasury stock as col-

"In January, 1910, T. J. Davis, then president of the Lincoln-Pope Mercantile Co., solicited a loan from me to the company," Wagoner explained. "Between Jan. 10 and March 1, I loaned the company $3,900 on its notes, se-cured by treasury stock as collateral. All the notes fell due in October, 1913.

The company could not pay them.

Company's Books Experted.

"I was away from the United States all summer and early fall of 1910. On my return I learned the company's books were in a very unsatisfactory condition. It was found necessary to employ another bookkeeper and also an expert accountant to straighten them out. The company's name was changed to the Wagoner Mercantile Co. March

"Davis and William Boedeker in 190 had associated themselves as stockholders and officers with J. B. Elilott in the Lincoln-Pope Mercantile Co. In January, 1910, S. S. Brill, who had been with the Roberts Library and December 1 with the Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co., was admitted to partnership. Brill Co., was admitted to partnership. Brill became a stockholder with Davis and Boedeker, Elliott withdrawing at that time and selling part of his stock. Davis then became president, Brill vicepresident and Boedeker secretary. Brill later, without authority, affixed to himself the title of general manager.

"While the accountant was going over the books I found, in my opinion, that Brill, Davis and Boedeker were working dry Soap; large bars, in at cross purposes, principally due to the fact that Brill had started his brother in business in Peoria, Ill., and furnished him on credit with merchandise from the Lincoln-Pope stock. He did this at company cost, without con-sulting Davis and Boedeker and without ard of Direct

Brill Makes Profit Good.

"The matter was reported to me and I insisted that Brill pay the amount the company had advanced his brother, plus 10 per cent, which he did. Davis and leker agreed with me there certainly had not been any overcharge, inasmuch as Brill had selected, packed and shipped all the merchandise sent to his brother

Wagoner says Brill guit the co Wagoner says Brill quit the company at the request of the board of directors and not because he, Wagoner, wished to add grocery staples and sugar to the merchandise lines catalogued, as published. Brill, in a statement to the Post-Dispatch in November, said he had quit because of the addition of grocery staples and sugar.

Brill, before quitting, brought his cousin, Simon D. Brill, from Chicago and it was agreed, Wagoner says, that Simon Brill should take charge of the dry goods and clothing department. Shortly after that, Wagoner says, he disphared Brill.

discharged Brill.

When he was forced to take charge of the business, Wagoner says, he found merchandise had been purchased in large quantities, much of which could not be disposed of except at consider-able loss.

Wagoner Took Charge in 1911.
With other officers, Wagoner was in charge of the business from Feb., 1911, until it filed its voluntary petition in bankruptcy June 20, 1913. Carroll was appointed trustee on Wagoner's motion in July, at the first hearing before Referee Coles. The trustee's first report was asked for Sept. 16. Wagener says that although engaged in other business, he traveled 200 miles to be at this hearing, which was continued until Oct. I at the trustee's request.

Wagoner said he could not attend on that date and sent word several days before Oct. 1. The hearing again was continued, he said. Two hearings were head to December and one last Wagoner.

Pallbearer for Grant.

Gen. Buckner was the last surviving deutenant-General of the Confederacy. He was one of the pallbearers at the funeral of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, being named by the ex-President as among the men he wished to have bear his body to the grave.

Gen. Buckner had a long and distinguished career as a soldier, having served in the Mexican and Civil Wars, in both of which he was promoted for oravery and soldierly qualities. He was graduated from the United States Miligraduated from the United States Min-tary Academy in 1844.

Served in Two Wars.

In the Mexican War he was brevetted for bravery at the battles of Contreras, Churubusco and Molino del Rey. He remained with the army in various positions until 1855, when he resigned. When the Civil War began he joined the Confederate army, with the rank of Brigadier-General. He was succes-sively made Major-General and Lieu-He was Governor of Kentucky from

n. Buckner died in the house in which he was born, April 1, 1823. The ld log structure had been remodeled from time to time and is one of the famous residences in Kentucky. Gen. Buckner's father, Col. A. H.

Buckner, also was a soldier, serving in the war of 1812. He descended from the Buckners of England, who settled in Virginia in 1635. Gen. Buckner's first wife died in 1872, and in June, 1885, he narried Miss Delia Claiborne of Rich-kner After Civil War Had to Fight to Regain His Fortune. CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The death of en. Simon Bolivar Buckner last night in Kentucky, recalls his struggle here after the close of the Civil War to regain his fortune.

Before the war he owned property in what is now the heart of Chicago's business district. To avoid confiscation at the outbreak of the war, he deeded it to a brother-in-law who served in the Federal army. His brother-in-law, who was mortally wounded in battle, left a will restoring the property to Gen. Buckner. It was not perfected, however, un-til after lohg and expensive litiga-tion. A building was erected on the land and later the General sold it for $500,000.

During the litigation over the property, it was said Gen. U. S. Grant, a classmate at West Point, offered Gen Buckner his private purse. In the early eightles, when Gen. Grant met with financial reevrses in New York, Gen. Buckner hastened to offer his assistance.

Senators Reed of Missouri and Gore of Oklahoma Chief Speakers Before 600.

Thomas P. Gors, Oklahoma's blind United States Senator, told 600 Democratic banqueters at the Hamilton Hotel, Thursday night, that Andrew Jackson was not born on "Jackson day," but could have been, if he had wanted to be; that political patronage was worse than war, and that the tariff and currency legislation must be followed by the smashing of the trusts.

Gore alluded to the jocose discussion which was caused by the assertion of State Chairman McClung, that Jan. 8 was the birthday of "Old Hickory." The committee in charge of the ban-The committee in charge of the ban-quet, in its announcements, fell into the same error, the fact being that "Jackson day" is the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans.

"As a matter of fact," said the Sen-ator, "he was born on March is, 1787. No one who has studied his life doubts that he would have been born Jan. 8 had he made up his mind to that. Believes Democrats Should Profit.

"War, even as defined by Sherman," he said later, "is a summer resort compared with the dispensing of political patronage. In war you kill the enemy, but in the handling of patronage you kill your friends. Yet I believe that the truits of Democratic victory should be tasted by the veterans of Democ

He said the question of the trusts was still unsolved, and that monopoly is never destroyed until prices are low-ered. The currency act, he said, would lestroy what he called the Money and Credit Trust. It may be necessary, he said, to create industrial commissions to supervise commercial combinations. Sénator James A. Reed of Missouri was the other principal speaker. It was noticed that Dayld R. Francis, whom Reed defeated for the senatorial nomination, was not present. A note from Francis, which was among the messages of regret, said he was confined to his home by a severe cold. A number of the diners remembered that they had seen him, a few hours before, at the City Club luncheon, where Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee was the chief speaker.

Reed's Speech Curtailed. Reed spoke of the currency law, rail-road regulation and tariff reform. He curtailed his speech in order to catch a train for Kansas City under the new currew schedule just introduced by ross-state railroads.

The dinner was a dollar affair, and a cocktail was served to each diner. O'Neill Ryan presided, and the Rev. W. C. Bitting pronounced the invocation. A number of Democrats from different parts of the State were present. John Thomas Brady attempted to furnish some vaudeville, but as his performance cted with Reed's speech, he speed-

Cannot Praise Duffy's Enough

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Margeaux have received so much benefit from fy's Pure Malt Whiskey that they advise everyone who is run down it, for it has given them health and strength when all others failed.

"My wife and I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for some after trying a number of doctors without very much benefit and we feers who are suffering with weak heart or a general run-down feeling try it. If they will take Duffy's as directed, they will find much health. My wife is now able to take her walk before breakfast and own washing and ironing, and sleeps well. I know my back is strong I do not feel as I used to. We are 66 years of age, and Duffy's Pur Whiskey has done us both so much good we feel we cannot say eno its praise."—Geo. W. ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

A Stirring Disposal of Men's & Young Men's Superbly Tailored Suits & Overcoats From the Country's Best Makers-Involving Our Entire Stocks

THE importance of this Clothing clearaway is not apparent at first blush. The magnitude of the occasion can be seen only from a view of the extensive stocks that are here for choosing.

As a sale of clothing it completely overshadows any other similar clearing sale event. It is the first clothing clearance in our new store.

Here for choosing are three times as many Suits or Overcoats as any other St. Louis store has to offer. Every garment is as new as the store, & tailored to suit exacting men, from materials & patterns that will meet prompt & enthusiastic approval.

Because of a backward season, assortments are more complete & the price revisions are more radical than ordinarily in a Clearing Sale—a fact which is prompting scores of men to buy an extra Suit or two, even though in no direct need for them.

Consider what it means to buy Suits & Overcoats of the highest character from such reputable makers as Rogers-Peet & Co., Hirsh-Wickwire Co., "Society Brand" Clothes, Strouse & Bros., A. B. Kirschbaum & Co., & Garson, Meyer & Co.-foremost makers, each in their respective lines-& few men, indeed, will fail to avail themselves of the savings offered in the following table of price revisions:

January Clearaway of Boys'

BEYOND question the most helpful sale of Boys' Clothing this season has brought or will likely bring. The extensive range offered for selection, the true worth of the garments involved & the radical price revising which has been made to effect an early disposal, combine to make this occasion one of first importance to mothers who would outfit the boy at little cost. The clothes are from prominent makers & possess the life, the snap & the value necessary to give boys of taste & sturdy habits satisfactory wear. How great the earnings in buying from this sale is shown in the following table:

SENATOR REED'S SPEECH.

At the Business Men's League luncheon Senator seed gave a clear and convincing exposition of the new banking and currency law. He explained the new banking systems, showing plainly how he weaknesses of the old are eliminated in the

It is needless to repeat in detail the manner in which the problem of turning sources of weakness of learning for its own high compensations, into sources of strength in times of stress was explained. Instead of having liquid reserves which continually flow from all parts of the country to the central reserve cities and which in any emergency may threaten the ruin of solvent banking institutions, we have solid and stable reserves, backed by the combined resources of the banks and the wealth of the nation, ready for use whenever required by business. Instead of an inelastic currency which disappears when financial storms brew, we now have the means of making to turn their sound assets into sound surrency. The day of John Smith certificates is past.

An assuring sign of better times is the attitude of the business men towards the new law The great throng of business men which packed the dining room of the Mercantile Club gave evidence of an intelligent understanding of the new law and a thorough appreciation of its purpose, significance and value to the industrial and commercial interests of the country. The business men are convinced that an invaluable piece of constructive legislation, offering a solid foundation for business prosperity, has been achieved. The attitude of the business men is a potent factor working for the success of the new system. They are ready to take hold and press forward.

Incidentally, Senator Reed demonstrated that his own attitude towards banking and currency reform had been grossly misrepresented. When the betterments that will result are actually vishis speech was completed there was no doubt in ualized to St. Louisans, they may screw their the mind of any of his hearers that he was prompted in his work on the Senate committee and in the Senate caucus by a sincere and ardent desire to accomplish the best possible results, and that he had made valuable contributions to that

ST. LOUIS' STATELIEST THOROUGHFARE. An ambitious and praiseworthy project is brought within measurable distance of realization by the naming of commissioners to apportion damages and benefits in the widening of Washington avenue to 80 feet between Jefferson and Grand avenues.

The cost will probably not fall below $1,000,00 the currency meet the need by enabling banks and may largely exceed that sum. By heroic and costly street surgery the narrow throat of Washington at Grand will be greatly enlarged, with notable betterments in appearance and in traffic conditions. The improvement will give St. Louis at least one broad, beautiful street of dignity and stateliness—a representative thoroughfare in an especial sense, as it runs with slight changes in direction from Union avenue to the Eads Bridge and traverses in its extent business sections as important as the residence sections it traverses farther out are desirable.

This is not the only improvement by which ideals of the city plan movement are being slowly approximated in St. Louis. All preliminaries for he expectantly awaited slicing in the vicinity of Locust and Theresa are completed and only the usual period for protest and appeal is being allowed to pass before the work of making the physical changes is begun.

The two improvements will revolutionize the aspect of certain mid-city blocks and ought to give an impetus to an entire shabby district. When courage up to assumption of the expense of the Market street esplanade and of those broad "spoke" avenues that ought to radiate from the center of the city to the southwest and northwest.

A MEXICAN PEACE CONFERENCE.

A story comes out of Mexico about how 200 soldiers in a train commanded by the rebel General, Pedro Gardia, were blown up and killed by their own rebel colleagues under Gen. Robles who had mistaken them for Federals.

Whether or not the report is accurate in all details, the frightful accident shows how lacking the country is in all requisites of safety. In the chaotic conditions prevalent in a large part of the republic, probably more or less destructive blunders of the same sort have not been uncor mon on both sides.

When She Is Older.

R. SIMEON WHITFIELD was a gentleman of high moral character and eminent respectability. Living in moderate circumstances, he was loved and respected by all who knew him.

One Saturday afternoon Mr. Whitfield was strolling along the street, when he paused for a moment in front of the office of a motor car company to admire the car that he saw in the indow.

It was a beautiful car. After Mr.

Would you like to go through the park?" asked the chauffeur.

"Not today." replied Whitfield, almost giving himself away, until it ocurred to him that the chauffeur might easily think he had a lot of cars at home, was accustomed to ride most of the time, and was just trying this one to admire the car that he saw in the indow.

Mr. Whitfield again sank back, alive to the pleasure. For the first time in his life he was getting something for othing. And it seemed so easy. All he had to do was to present himself, to look doubtful, and there was the hearty invitation.

The best of it was that there was no obligation. He might buy a car some day, of course. He might influence a friend. In this case he ought to know what was the best car; and how could he find out unless he tried? With these subtle sophistries Mr. Whitfield eased his conscience.

The National Athletic Club has been Harry W. Blodgett, that it is secure in its tenure of the Collseum under the terms of the lease held by the club, M. Robinson, manager of the Coliseum, that the club vacate.

Secretary Frank Bishop of the club held a conference with Mr. Blodgett Thursday afternoon, at which the matter was discussed in detail, and at its conclusion Bishop was satisfied the club could not be ousted. Clauses in the lease, which does not expire until the Log of the present year by which June 1 of the present year, by which the club expects to maintain its rights in the premises, are as follows:

The National Athletic Club is to have the use of the said Coliseum one evening in the months of June, July, August and September of 1913, and two evenings in the months of October, November and December, 1913, and January, February, March, April and May, 1914, for the purpose of giving sparring, boxing, or other athletic exhibitions before the members of the club.

The St. Louis Colliseum further agrees that during the period of this lease the National Athletic Club is to have the sale and exclusive right or using the St. Louis Colliseum for the purpose of giving boxing or sparring exhibitions, and that it will not allow any other person, persons, partnership, corporation or club to give boxing or sparring exhibitions in the St. Louis Colliseum during sald period of time.

The lease further provides the sum-and manner in which the club shall pay its rental to the Collseum company, and this, it is stated, has been compiled te lease is signed by Frank N. Rob-n as secretary and manager for the Louis Colliseum company and by slahop as manager and secretary for National Athletic Club.

Lease, Good, Blodgett Says.

When seen by a Post-Dispatch representative Mr. Blodgett stated that he had advised the Board of Directors of the National A. C. of their legal rights and that the club could not, in his opinion, be dispossessed until expiration of its lease, so long as it continued to observe the terms of its contract. Blodgett added that no legal notice of vacation had been served upon the club's officials, and, furthermore, he had been informed by John E. Pilcher, president of the Collssum company, that the terms of the contract held by the National A. C. would be lived up to.

Until the recent trouble between Manager Robinson of the Collssum and Secretary, Blabop of the club the Board of Directors of the club has been composed of Harry M. Middah, president; R. L. McCrea, vice-president; Frank Blabop, secretary; and Frank M. Robinson, treasurer. Recently Robinson handed in his resignation and the position of treasurer has been temporarily filled by Blabop until someone else could be appointed.

AURORA, Ill., Jan. 8.—A murder myster 'is believed to have been solved today when a Maltese case cacaped from hit cage at the Aurora cat show, bit and scratched several women and million and crishtened spectators into a panit-before being captured by the police.

Mrs. Blanche Watson, wife of a banicier, was made unconscious and the cat bit through a heavy shoe, inflicting deep gashes in the foot of Harold Pryer of Kaneville. Others were given medical attention.

The cat belonged to John Jenkina, a hermit of Bald Mound, who was founded and in his lonely shack. A Coroner's jury examined the wounds on the vicitim's throat and face and returned a excluded the standard took the cat following the hermits death, named it the Hermit and exhibited it yesterday at the show.

The cuts and slashes on those wounded by the animal were said by Coroner's long to be identical with those found on the aged recluse.
